CHIEF OF HORTICULTURE AT THE PANAMA EXPOSITION.

George A. Dennison.

Mr. George A. Dennison, chief of the department of horticulture at the Panama-Pacific International exposition, has long been identified with the horticultural development of the Pacific coast. Mr. Dennison in his department will exhibit not only the commercial horticultural products of the world, but will display flowers and ornamental plants and shrubs. One thousand dollars is offered by Mr. Dennison for the best rose to be exhibited at the exposition.

State pavilion at the Panama-Pacific International exposition in San Francisco and the structure will be completed by October. The Idaho state pavilion is being rapidly constructed and will be complete by March of this year.

WORLD'S ARMEN TO GATHER

Will Meet to Consider Panama Exposition Aero Contest.

LIKELY AT SAN FRANCISCO

Masters of Flying Machines from Europe and from All Over Expected to Gather in the United States.

At the instigation of the Aero Club of America a special meeting of the great international aviation organization, the Federation Internationale Aeronautique, with headquarters in Brussels, will be called during this year to consider the great Panama-Pacific international aviation race around the world and the transatlantic flights now being programed.

In view of the fact that the most important of these flights will all start from this side of the Atlantic and that the big globe-grinding air race will start and finish on the grounds of the Panama-Pacific International exposition in San Francisco, it is expected that the meeting of this world-wide federation of air men will be held in the United States, either at New York or, more probably, at San Francisco next fall. The federation consists of representatives of France, Germany, Russia, England, Austria, Italy, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Spain, Egypt, Netherlands and the United States.

Prince Roland Bonaparte is at the head of the federation, which is composed in Europe largely of titled nobility and scientific men of international prominence. The organization holds one regular meeting each year and in addition a special meeting to consider special events. Special meetings are held in the various countries represented in the federation in rotation, and as each of the European countries have had such meetings, it is confidently hoped that the meeting of this year will take place in the United States. In view of great flights recently made, aviators affirm that the world's flight will be accomplished through the equipment of adequate supply stations along the proposed route.

Airship to Try to Circle Globe from the Panama Expo

Aeronauts from all the civilized nations of the globe, with every standard type of aircraft driven by motors, will participate in an aerial race around the world, which will be a feature of the sporting events to be held during the period of the Panama-Pacific International exposition.

Three hundred thousand dollars, the largest prize fund ever offered for any sporting event in history, will be offered to the aeronauts who participate in the stupendous contest. This may be increased later.

The race, the climax of all the world's aeronautical activities, is to start from the grounds of the Panama-Pacific exposition in May, 1914, and must be finished within ninety days, according to the tentative plans submitted to the Pacific Aero club, representative of the Aero club of America, which is the American division of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale.

Thus the flight becomes the most tremendous aerial drama every played. The start will be made from San Francisco and the finish must be made in that city. The route lies across the Sierra Nevada mountains, thence by way of Reno to Cheyenne, thence either to Kansas City, St. Louis or Chicago, and on to New York City. Here the route turns up the Atlantic coast to Belle Isle, a small point between Newfoundland and Labrador. Here the flight across the broad expanse of the Atlantic begins, with Cape Farewell, Greenland, 50 miles away, as the goal.

This is not an impossible flight, as is proved by the accomplishment of Garros, the French aviator, who recently flew 600 miles over the Mediterranean sea from Cannes, France, to Tunis, Africa.

From Cape Farewell the route will traverse the Atlantic ocean again for a distance of 670 miles to Reykjavik, Iceland. The next stop is at Stornaway, in the Hebrides, off the west coast of Scotland, a distance of 570 miles, and here the entire Atlantic will have been traversed.

How to Win a Free Trip to the Panama Exposition

Panama Exposition Notes.
Another flag floated out among the banners of the nations of the world at the Panama-Pacific International exposition when Vahan Cardashian, commissioner general of Turkey, dedicated his country's site on February 12. It is expected that Turkey will expend $300,000 upon its exhibit.

Ground was formally broken for the New York state pavilion at the Panama-Pacific International exposition on February 12. Construction work will be begun immediately. The building will cost $300,000 and will be four stories in height. The Southern Pacific railroad has formally announced its intention of lowering freight rates on exhibits to the Panama-Pacific International exposition. Other railroads have declared a similar intention and alternate routes are offered. Water transportation through the Panama canal will be quite inexpensive. Work has been begun on the Oregon
